2	BACKGROUND	2
3	ARGUMENT.....	5
5	I. Through his prior representation of the Grabek plaintiffs and
6	class, Ms. Wagner’s law partner Mr. Clark had a confidential
7	relationship and gained confidential information related to
8	Plaintiffs’ claims.	7
10	II. Disqualification is warranted because if she testified, Ms.
11	Wagner’s imputed conflict would violate the California and
12	Massachusetts Rules of Professional Conduct.....	10
13
14	A. Rules of Professional Conduct prohibit Mr. Clark, who
15	formerly represented the Grabek plaintiffs and class
16	members here, from representing the Defendants in this
17	substantially related case, and his partner, Ms. Wagner, is
18	likewise prohibited.....	11
19
20	B. Mr. Clark’s conflict is imputed to Ms. Wagner.	14
21
22	III. Apart from the above, Ms. Wagner should be barred because she 23	has a separate conflict involving her proposed testimony against

1 This case is related to an earlier case—In re Northrop Grumman Corp. ERISA
2 Litig., No. 06-6213 AB (JCx) (C.D. Cal.) (“Grabek”)—which alleged that the same
3 fiduciaries of the Northrop Grumman Savings Plan (“Plan”) violated the Employee 4 Retirement Income Security Act (“ERISA”) by unlawfully diverting Plan assets to 5 Northrop in the guise of administrative fees. After the Court limited the damages 6 discovery period to May 11, 2009 in Grabek, Doc. 652 at 3, 7–8, Plaintiffs filed this 7 action to recover the continued unlawful payments to Northrop occurring after that 8 date. Doc. 1 (“Marshall”).¹ Some of the same actions and allegations in the Grabek 9 case are also at issue in the Marshall case.

10 During the Grabek litigation, Plaintiffs’ counsel in both cases, Schlichter, 11 Bogard & Denton, employed an associate, Thomas E. Clark, Jr., who was deeply 12 involved in developing the claims asserted in Grabek and later in Marshall, and 13 acquired confidential information, including sensitive work product of Plaintiffs’ 14 attorneys. Mr. Clark left Schlichter, Bogard & Denton while summary judgment 15 was pending in Grabek, and is now a partner of Marcia Wagner, the principal of 16 The Wagner Law Group. Ms. Wagner has accepted employment as an expert 17 witness to testify in this case on behalf of the Defendants regarding the same 18 unlawful payments claim that Mr. Clark worked to develop in Grabek.

19 As explained further below, Ms. Wagner is disqualified from testifying as an 20 expert in this case. Substantial authority provides that an attorney who serves as an 21 expert witness remains subject to applicable rules of professional conduct. Ms.
22 Wagner’s law partner, Mr. Clark, would have a direct and unavoidable conflict of 23 interest, if he were to be involved for Northrop Grumman, because he previously 24 represented the plaintiff class in Grabek. Under applicable rules and case law, that 25

26 ¹ In addition to the claim regarding unlawful payments of Plan assets to 27 Northrop, Plaintiffs here assert claims related to the unreasonable recordkeeping 28 and administrative expenses charged to the Plan and the imprudent Emerging Markets Equity Fund.

1 conflict is imputed to his entire law firm, including Ms. Wagner. Moreover, Ms.
 2 Wagner has a separate issue requiring her disqualification. Ms. Wagner's office, 3 through Mr. Clark, has directly contacted one of Plaintiffs' expert witnesses, David 4 Witz, in this case. [REDACTED]

5 [REDACTED]
 6 [REDACTED]. Disqualification of Ms. Wagner is the only 7 remedy that can protect the confidentiality of information disclosed to Mr. Clark, 8 avoid the conflict with her client, Mr. Witz, and avoid the appearance of 9 impropriety in these proceedings.

10 BACKGROUND

11 On October 15, 2018, Defendants disclosed Marcia Wagner as a retained expert 12 in rebuttal to Plaintiffs' expert, David Witz, regarding the payments to Northrop 13 Grumman from Plan assets for expenses Northrop Grumman incurred for purported 14 services performed by Northrop employees. See Ex. A (Wagner Expert Report; 15 sealed).² Ms. Wagner is a Massachusetts-licensed attorney who is the founder and 16 managing partner of The Wagner Law Group, P.C.. Id. ¶1 and Appx. A. As an 17 attorney, she focuses her practice exclusively in the area of pension and employee 18 benefits law. Id.

19 For several years prior to her engagement in this matter, Ms. Wagner has 20 employed Thomas E. Clark, Jr., as a partner in her law firm. See Ex. B, Wagner 21 Dep. 90:17–91:7 (sealed).³ According to Ms. Wagner, [REDACTED]

 27 Schlichter (“Schlichter Decl.”) with the exception of Exhibits A and B that have

1 Partner.⁴ Mr. Clark previously worked as an associate at Schlichter, Bogard &
 2 Denton, LLP, from 2008 through 2013, and was an attorney of record for Plaintiffs 3 in the Grabek case. Schlichter Decl. ¶3; Grabek, Doc. 139 (pro hac vice application 4 granted); Grabek, Doc. 532 (Aug. 6, 2013)(notice of withdrawal). During his tenure 5 at Schlichter, Bogard & Denton, Mr. Clark was significantly involved in the 6 representation of the plaintiffs in the substantially related Grabek action against 7 Northrop and the Plan's fiduciaries. Schlichter Decl. ¶¶3–4. Mr. Clark had regular 8 attorney-client communications with the named plaintiffs regarding the litigation, 9 and was a central member of the litigation team that investigated, analyzed, and 10 developed the claims asserted in Grabek, including the unlawful payments claim 11 that was also later brought in this matter. Id. In total, Mr. Clark spent over 2,500 12 attorney hours representing the Grabek plaintiffs and the class. Id. ¶4.

13 As a member of the litigation team, Mr. Clark received confidential work 14 product of Plaintiffs' attorneys, including that related to their trial strategy, 15 assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of the case, and other highly sensitive 16 information provided in anticipation of litigation. Id. ¶4. Mr. Clark's role in the 17 prior litigation against Northrop is amply shown on the Grabek docket. See, e.g., 18 Grabek, Doc. 159 (attendance at settlement conference), Doc. 172-5 at 6 (listed on 19 firm bio), Doc. 375 at 26 (identified as an attorney to be designated as class 20 counsel), Docs. 475 and 494 (Clark declarations submitted in opposition to 21 summary judgment).

22 That this litigation and Grabek are substantially related is undisputed. Both 23 actions involve similar ERISA claims on behalf of the same retirement Plan and 24 certified classes of Plan participants against the Plan's fiduciaries related to the 25 unlawful payment of Plan assets to Northrop Grumman. Grabek, Doc. 338 (Second

1 Am. Complaint); Marshall, Doc. 132 (Second Am. Complaint).⁵ Because both 2 actions were related, this case was transferred to this Court’s calendar in accordance 3 with General Order 14-03. Doc. 9. The Court specifically noted that Grabek alleged 4 “‘substantially similar allegations to those in this action,’ including that Defendants 5 ‘charged excessive and prohibited administrative fees to the [the Plan] for 6 unnecessary services to pay off its own corporate expenses.’” Grabek, Doc. 802 at 7 2 (quoting Mot. to Intervene, and citing Marshall complaint). Defendants 8 themselves even referred to this action as “a sequel” to Grabek, noting that 9 “[m]embers of the Grabek class who participate in the plans have, through this 10 action, asserted a similar claim for a later time period not covered by Grabek[.]” 11 Doc. 76 at 3 (emphasis added). The certified class in Marshall also “includes 12 numerous individuals who were class members in Grabek,” Doc. 130 at 13, 13 including Grabek Class Representatives Gary Grabek and Mark Geuder. See 14 Grabek, Doc. 777 at 50–23–24, 81:20–23, 83:5–7 (trial testimony of Grabek and 15 Geuder confirming participation during the Marshall class period).

16 Following Defendants’ disclosure of Ms. Wagner as a rebuttal expert, on 17 October 25, 2018, Plaintiffs’ counsel notified Defendants of Ms. Wagner’s imputed 18 conflicts of interest due to Mr. Clark’s prior representation of the Grabek plaintiffs, 19 and that Plaintiffs would move to disqualify Ms. Wagner if she were not 20 withdrawn. See Ex. C. On October 29, 2018, Defendants refused to withdraw 21 Wagner as an expert. See Ex. D.

Corporation Financial Savings and Security Program, which is not part of this case.

17 ARGUMENT

18 This Court has the inherent authority to disqualify expert witnesses to “preserve 19 the fairness and integrity of the judicial proceedings,” Stencel v. Fairchild Corp., 20 174 F.Supp.2d 1080, 1082–83 (C.D. Cal. 2000)(citation omitted), and to “protect 21 privileges that otherwise may be breached, and promote public confidence in the 22 legal system.” Hewlett-Packard Co. v. EMC Corp., 330 F.Supp.2d 1087, 1092 23 (N.D. Cal. 2004). Cf. Campbell Indus. v. M/V Gemini, 619 F.2d 24, 27 (9th Cir.
24 1980)(affirming exclusion of expert witness based on improper ex parte contact).

25 Here, there are two separate grounds on which Ms. Wagner is subject to 26 disqualification. First, “where a party retains an expert witness who previously

27 ⁶ See David Witz Curriculum Vitae,
28 <https://plantools.com/assets/uploads/David%20Witz%20Curriculum%20Vitae.pdf>.

1 worked for an adversary and who acquired confidential information during the 2 course of his employment, disqualification may be appropriate.” Pellerin v.
3 Honeywell Int’l Inc., No. 11-1278, 2012 WL 112539 at 2 (S.D. Cal. Jan. 12, 4 2012)(citation omitted). Mr. Clark had a confidential relationship and necessarily 5 acquired confidential information while representing the Plaintiffs in Grabek. The 6 significant risk that such information may be shared with his law partner, Ms.
7 Wagner, warrants barring Wagner’s testimony.

8 Second, because Ms. Wagner is an attorney, she is subject to disqualification if 9 her role would violate the rules of professional conduct, which continue to apply 10 even when the attorney is not acting as counsel. Plumley v. Doug Mockett & Co., 11 No. 04-2868 GHK (Ex), 2008 WL 5382269 at 1–3 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 22, 2008)
12 (applying California Rules of Professional Conduct to disqualify attorney-expert 13 with imputed conflict); Am. Airlines, Inc. v. Sheppard, Mullin, Richter & Hampton, 14 96 Cal. App. 4th 1017, 1034–35 (Cal. Ct. App. 2002) (finding that attorney-witness 15 violated former Rule 3-310(E) of California Rules of Professional Conduct by 16 accepting employment as witness adverse to former client); Mass. Ethics Op. No.
17 99-3 (concluding that Rule 1.9 regarding duties to former client apply to an attorney 18 serving as a testifying expert);⁷ City of San Antonio v. Edwards Aquifer Auth., No.
19 12-620, 2014 WL 12495317 at 2 (W.D. Tex. Sept. 30, 2014) (“[A] lawyer that 20 takes on the task of testifying as an expert does not shed his responsibility to adhere 21 to the rules of professional conduct that apply to lawyers.”); see also Cal. R. Prof.
22 Conduct 1.0, cmt. 2 (“a violation of a rule can occur when a lawyer is not practicing 23 law or acting in a professional capacity”). Under the rules in California, which 24 govern the conduct of attorneys before this Court (L.R. 83-3.1.2), and 25 Massachusetts, where Ms. Wagner is licensed, Mr. Clark’s conflict arising from his

1 representation of the Grabek plaintiffs is imputed to his entire firm, including Ms.
2 Wagner. Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.10;⁸ Mass. R. Prof. Conduct 1.10. Accordingly,
3 Ms. Wagner should be barred from serving as an expert.

4 I. Through his prior representation of the Grabek plaintiffs and class, 5 Ms. Wagner’s law partner Mr. Clark had a confidential relationship 6 and gained confidential information related to Plaintiffs’ claims.

7 Disqualification of an expert is warranted when the opponent: (1) had an 8 objectively reasonable belief that a confidential relationship existed; and (2) 9 disclosed confidential information to the expert. Stencel, 174 F.Supp.2d at 1083.

10 Here, Plaintiffs had an objectively reasonable belief that a confidential 11 relationship existed with Mr. Clark given his position of trust as one of the 12 attorneys representing the Grabek plaintiffs and as counsel to the certified class of 13 100,000 Plan participants,⁹ and his receipt of confidential information that is 14 material to these proceedings. Based on this attorney-client relationship, and Mr.
15 Clark’s access to confidential work product and litigation strategy, “there was a 16 relationship that would permit the litigant reasonably to expect that any 17 communications would be maintained in confidence.” Hewlett-Packard, 330 18 F.Supp.2d at 1093 (citation omitted). Plaintiffs reasonably expected that an attorney 19 previously employed by Plaintiffs’ counsel would maintain the confidential 20 information that he received that is material to these proceedings in confidence. Cf.
21 Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.6 (duties to protect confidential information).

1 Further, it is undisputed that confidential information was disclosed to Mr. Clark 2 while representing the Grabek plaintiffs and class. See Stencel, 174 F.Supp.2d at 3 1083. Indeed, due to his direct involvement in Grabek—on which he logged over 4 2,500 hours (Schlichter Decl. ¶4)—Mr. Clark “is presumed to possess confidential 5 information.” City and Cty. of San Francisco, v. Cobra Solutions, Inc., 38 Cal. 4th 6 839, 847 (2006). Apart from client confidences disclosed to Mr. Clark that are 7 protected by California Business and Professions Code §6068(e)¹⁰ and Cal. R. Prof.
8 Conduct 1.6,¹¹ he had access to highly sensitive attorney work product of Plaintiffs’ 9 attorneys pertinent to the claims asserted herein. Stencel, 174 F.Supp.2d at 1084;¹² 10 Meza v. H. Muehlstein & Co., 176 Cal. App. 4th 969, 979–80 (Cal. Ct. App. 2009).
11 For purposes of expert disqualification, confidential information is “information ‘of 12 either particular significance or [that] which can be readily identified as either 13 attorney work product or within the scope of the attorney-client privilege.’” 14 Hewlett-Packard, 330 F.Supp.2d at 1094 (citation omitted). Such information 15 includes a party’s “strategy in the litigation, the kinds of experts [the party]

16
17 ¹⁰ It is the duty of an attorney to “maintain inviolate the confidence, at every peril 18 to himself or herself to preserve the secrets, of his or her client.” Cal. Bus. & Prof.
19 Code §6068(e)(1).

20 ¹¹ Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.6, cmt. 2 (“lawyer-client confidentiality applies to 21 information a lawyer acquires by virtue of the representation, whatever its source”, 22 and includes “matters protected by the work product doctrine”); see also Mass. R.
23 Prof. Conduct 1.6, cmt. 3A (confidential information “consists of information 24 gained during or relating to the representation of a client, whatever its source”, 25 including that protected by the attorney-client privilege or information that the 26 lawyer agreed to keep confidential).

27 ¹² Although Stencel found that confidential information in the form of work 28 product was disclosed to the expert, the court declined to apply the imputed disqualification doctrine to the expert because the court was unable to identify any case law to support application of the doctrine to a conflicted expert rather than an attorney. 174 F.Supp.2d at 1084, 1087. Here, this Court is presented with a conflicted attorney who is also serving as a testifying expert, and as set forth herein, courts have applied the imputed disqualification doctrine to this situation. E.g., Plumley, 2008 WL 5382269 at 3.

1 expected to retain, [the party's] view of the strengths and weaknesses of each side, 2 the role of each of the [party's] experts to be hired and anticipated defenses.” Id. at 3 1094 (citation omitted). Mr. Clark had access to all of that information in Grabek, 4 which necessarily also is relevant to this substantially related case with tens of 5 thousands of the same clients.

6 Even though Mr. Clark obtained the confidential information in a different case, 7 Plaintiffs would still be prejudiced if that knowledge is used against them here, 8 because this case and Grabek are not only intimately related, but also involve many 9 of the same facts and legal theories. Indeed, this Court has recognized the related 10 nature of the cases, Grabek, Doc. 802 at 2, and Defendants themselves admit that 11 this is a “sequel” to Grabek, Doc. 76 at 3. A large number of the 100,000 class 12 members in this case were also class members in Grabek. Doc. 130 at 13. Allowing 13 a former class counsel’s new law partner to testify against his former clients would 14 be “unseemly,” and “undermine[] public confidence in the fairness and integrity of 15 the judicial process.” Am. Empire Surplus Lines Ins. Co. v. Care Centers, Inc., 484 16 F.Supp.2d 855, 857 (N.D. Ill. 2007). Disqualification is needed to protect the 17 Grabek Plaintiffs’ client confidences and to preserve the privilege that applies to 18 Plaintiffs’ counsel’s work product, the purpose of which “is to protect the integrity 19 of the adversary process.” United States v. Christensen, 828 F.3d 763, 805 (9th Cir.
20 2015)(citation omitted); Hickman v. Taylor, 329 U.S. 495, 510–511 (1947).

21 Allowing Ms. Wagner to testify would undermine “California’s policy in favor of 22 protecting attorney work product.” Meza, 176 Cal. App. 4th at 979; Cal. Civ. Proc.
23 Code §2018.020. The Court should therefore exercise its inherent power to preserve 24 the fairness and integrity of these proceedings by disqualifying former class counsel 25 Mr. Clark’s law partner Ms. Wagner from testifying against Plaintiffs and much of 26 the class he represented.

1 II. Disqualification is warranted because if she testified, Ms. Wagner’s
2 imputed conflict would violate the California and Massachusetts
3 Rules of Professional Conduct.

4 Disqualification is also warranted when an attorney-expert has a conflict that 5 would violate applicable rules of professional conduct. Plumley, 2008 WL 5382269
6 at 1–3. That is the case here.

7 In Plumley, the court disqualified an attorney from serving as a testifying expert 8 in a matter substantially related to a prior matter where an attorney from his firm 9 previously represented an adverse party. Id. at 3. This is what we have here, except 10 this case is even stronger. In addition to the same clients, some of the facts and 11 legal theories are the same in both cases. The Plumley court noted that under 12 California Rule of Professional Conduct 3-310 (the prior version of current Rule 13 1.9), “[a]n attorney may not, without written consent, accept employment adverse 14 to a former client on a matter substantially related to the prior representation.” Id. at 15 1 (citation omitted). The proposed expert for the defendant was senior counsel of a 16 law firm and another attorney in the firm previously represented the plaintiff, albeit 17 in a limited capacity. Id. Because both matters were substantially related, and the 18 firm’s representation of the plaintiff in the prior action was imputed to the testifying 19 expert, the court disqualified the expert. Id. at 3.¹³ The court specifically rejected 20 the argument that the expert should not be disqualified because he was acting as an 21 expert rather than a lawyer. Id.

22 Other courts have also disqualified attorney-experts for similar reasons. See 23 Brand v. 20th Century Ins. Co./21st Century Ins. Co., 124 Cal. App. 4th 594, 602, 24 21 Cal. Rptr. 3d 380 (2004)(disqualified lawyer-expert from testifying against a 25 former client in a substantially related matter); City of San Antonio v. Edwards

26
27 ¹³ The court noted that even if the California Supreme Court would allow an 28 ethical screen of the conflicted lawyer to prevent disqualification of an entire firm, the screening procedures used by the expert in Plumley were ineffective. Id. at 2–3.

1 Aquifer Auth., No. 12-620, 2014 WL 12495317, at 3 (W.D. Tex. Sept. 30, 2 2014)(lawyer expert disqualified from serving as an expert against former client of 3 law firm because confidential information imputed to him); Attic Tent, Inc. v.
4 Copeland, No. 06-66, 2006 U.S.Dist.LEXIS 57601 at 20–22, Doc. 74 at 12–13
5 (W.D.N.C. Aug. 14, 2006)(although lawyer-expert had not worked on patent 6 application at issue or acquired confidential information, court disqualified expert 7 to avoid “appearance of conflicts of interest”); Cf. N. Pacifica, LLC v. City of 8 Pacifica, 335 F.Supp.2d 1045, 1049–50 (N.D. Cal. 2004)(lawyer-experts 9 disqualified where law firm previously represented adverse parties). The reasoning 10 of these decisions apply fully here.

11 A. Rules of Professional Conduct prohibit Mr. Clark, who formerly 12 represented the Grabek plaintiffs and class members here, from 13 representing the Defendants in this substantially related case, and his 14 partner, Ms. Wagner, is likewise prohibited.

15 Rule 1.9 of the Rules of Professional Conduct in both California and 16 Massachusetts provide that a lawyer may not, without written consent, accept 17 employment adverse to a former client on a matter substantially related to the prior 18 representation. Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.9(a), (b); Mass. R. Prof. Conduct 1.9(a), (b).
19 These rules would plainly bar Ms. Wagner’s law partner Mr. Clark from 20 representing the Defendants. Because that conflict is imputed to Ms. Wagner, she 21 also cannot accept employment on behalf of Defendants and adverse to the 22 Plaintiffs. See Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.10(a); Mass. R. Prof. Conduct 1.10. The fact 23 that Ms. Wagner is serving as an expert rather than a lawyer is immaterial. City of 24 San Antonio, 2014 WL 12495317 at 2 (“[A] lawyer that takes on the task of 25 testifying as an expert does not shed his responsibility to adhere to the rules of 26 professional conduct that apply to lawyers.”); Mass. Ethics Op. No. 99-3 27 (concluding that Rule 1.9 applies to an attorney serving as a testifying expert)(Ex.
28 F).

1 There is no serious dispute that Mr. Clark, having formerly represented the 2 Grabek plaintiffs, is prohibited from representing the Defendants in this matter.
3 Indeed, multiple parts of California Rule 1.9 would bar that representation. Because 4 Mr. Clark “formerly represented a client in [the Grabek] matter,” he “shall not 5 thereafter represent another person in the same or a substantially related matter in 6 which that person’s interests are materially adverse to the interests of the former 7 client unless the former client gives informed written consent.” Cal. R. Prof.
8 Conduct 1.9(a). And because a firm with which Mr. Clark was previously 9 associated “had previously represented a client (1) whose interests are materially 10 adverse to” Defendants, and (2) in so doing Mr. Clark acquired confidential 11 information, section (b) prohibits Mr. Clark from representing the Defendants in 12 “the same or a substantially related matter.” Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.9(b); see also 13 Mass. R. Prof. Conduct 1.10(d) (lawyers’ new firm may not represent a person in 14 the “same or substantially related to a matter in which the newly associated 15 lawyer...had previously represented a client whose interests are materially adverse 16 to the new firm’s client”).

17 Two of the Grabek named plaintiffs whom Mr. Clark personally and directly 18 represented, Grabek and Geuder, are class members here (Grabek, Doc. 777 at 50– 19 23–24, 81:20–23, 83:5–7), as are tens of thousands of other unnamed Grabek class 20 members whom Clark formerly represented as class counsel (Doc. 130 at 13). The 21 interests of those individuals are directly and materially adverse to the interests of 22 the fiduciary-defendants in this case.

23 Moreover, this case is much more than “substantially related” to Grabek. A case 24 is “substantially related” if there is a substantial risk that the attorney will “do 25 anything that will injuriously affect the former client” from a prior matter or “use 26 against the former client knowledge or information acquired by virtue of the 27 previous relationship.” Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.9, cmts. 1 and 3. This occurs if “the 28 matters involve the same transaction or legal dispute or other work performed by

1 the lawyer for the former client.” Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.9, cmt. 3; Plumley, 2008
2 WL 5382269 at 2 (“Two matters are substantially related if confidential information
3 could have been disclosed.”); see also Mass. R. Prof. Conduct 1.9, cmt. 3 (Matters 4 are “substantially related” if they involved “the same transaction or legal dispute or 5 if there otherwise is a substantial risk that confidential factual information as would 6 normally be obtained in the prior representation would materially advance the 7 client’s position in the subsequent matter.”).

8 From a legal and factual perspective, both actions are substantially related 9 because they involve virtually the same class of plaintiffs and the same Northrop 10 Plan fiduciaries litigating over the same legal dispute, i.e., allegations that 11 Defendants breached their fiduciary duties by using Plan assets to pay salaries and 12 fringe benefits of Northrop employees. See Plumley, 2008 WL 5382269 at 2 (two 13 matters substantially related because they involve the same parties litigating over 14 the same patent); Brand, 124 Cal. App. 4th at 606, 21 Cal. Rptr. 3d at 387 (similar 15 factual and legal bases between cases deemed substantially related, “presenting a 16 substantial risk ‘that representation of the present client will involve the use of 17 information acquired in the course of representing the former client’”)(citation 18 omitted).

19 Defendants may claim that Mr. Clark would not have a conflict because a 20 comment to Rule 1.7 of the Massachusetts and ABA Model rules states that 21 unnamed class members are ordinarily not considered to be clients of the lawyer for 22 conflicts purposes, meaning Mr. Clark’s ethical obligations extend only to the 23 named class representatives in Grabek. See Ex. D at 1–2 (citing cmt. 25 to Mass. R.
24 Prof. Conduct 1.7 and the ABA Model Rule 1.7, among others). That argument is 25 unavailing for three reasons. First, the comment does not apply because the issue of 26 whether informed consent from a named plaintiff is permissible to waive any 27 potential conflict only applies when an action has not been certified. Del Campo v.
28 Mealing, No. 01-21151, 2011 WL 6176223, at 4 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 7, 2011); Sharp v.

1 Next Entm't, Inc., 163 Cal. App. 4th 410, 432 (Cal. Ct. App. 2008). In Grabek, a 2 class of over 100,000 Plan participants was certified. Doc. 421; In re Northrop
3 Grumman Corp. ERISA Litig., 2011 WL 3505264 at 7, 18. Once the class was 4 certified, the unnamed class members, including the Marshall Named Plaintiffs and 5 Class Representatives, became clients of Plaintiffs' counsel for purposes of 6 determining conflicts in this matter. Walker v. Apple, Inc., 4 Cal. App. 5th 1098, 7 1107 (Cal. Ct. App. 2016); see Marshall, Doc. 64-4 ¶¶1, 3 (Hall declaration), 8 Marshall, Docs. 83-6 – 83-11 ¶1 (Class Rep. declarations); Doc. 147 ¶¶11–16
9 (answer); see also Del Campo, No. 01-21151, 2011 WL 6176223 at 3–4 (class 10 certification is point for determining representation for conflict purposes); cf. Parks 11 v. Eastwood Ins. Servs., Inc., 235 F.Supp.2d 1082, 1083 (C.D. Cal. 2002)(Taylor, 12 J.)(after a class is certified, “absent class members are considered represented by 13 class counsel”).

14 Second, the comment's statement that unnamed class members are “ordinarily 15 not considered to be clients of the lawyer” for purposes of conflicts with current 16 clients, the comment conditions this statement on the two matters being 17 “unrelated,” which is not the case here. See Mass. R. Prof. Conduct 1.7, cmt. 25 (“a 18 lawyer seeking to represent an opponent in a class action does not typically need 19 the consent of an unnamed member of the class whom the lawyer represents in an 20 unrelated matter”)(emphasis added); ABA Model R. Prof. Conduct, cmt. 25 21 (same). Third, comment 25 to Rule 1.7 of the Massachusetts and ABA rules was 22 not adopted in the current California Rules of Professional Conduct, which govern 23 the conduct of attorneys before this Court. L.R. 83-3.1.2.

24 B. Mr. Clark's conflict is imputed to Ms. Wagner.

25 Because Mr. Clark gained confidential information during his prior 26 representation of the class members in a substantially related matter, he would be 27 personally disqualified from accepting employment on behalf of the Defendants in 28 this case unless he obtained informed consent. Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.9(a), (b);

1 Mass. R. Prof. Conduct 1.9(a), (b); Mass. R. Prof. Conduct 1.10(d); see also Mass.
2 Ethics Opinion 99-3 (Ex. F). Because he would be disqualified, and he substantially 3 participated in Grabek, his conflict is imputed to Ms. Wagner and she is also 4 disqualified from accepting employment on behalf of Defendants. Cal. R. Prof.
5 Conduct 1.10(a)(2)(i). The same outcome would result under California's 6 traditional rule regarding vicarious disqualification. Plumley, 2008 WL 5382269 at 7 2; People ex rel. Dep't of Corps. V. Speedee Oil Change Sys., Inc., 20 Cal. 4th 8 1135, 1139, 980 P.2d 371 (1999).

9 Plaintiffs need not prove that Ms. Wagner actually received confidential 10 information because it is presumed that "each member of the firm has imputed 11 knowledge of the confidential information." Meza, 176 Cal. App. 4th at 979 (citing 12 Speedee Oil, 20 Cal. 4th at 1146, Flatt v. Superior Court, 9 Cal. 4th 275, 283 13 (Cal.1994); disqualified law firm because new lawyer previously represented one of 14 the defendants); Plumley, 2008 WL 5382269 at 2–3 (despite no evidence that 15 confidential information disclosed to attorney-expert, expert disqualified); 16 Edwards, 2014 WL 12495317 at 3 (confidential information imputed). The 17 "underlying concern is the possibility, or appearance of the possibility, that the 18 attorney may have received confidential information during the prior representation 19 that would be relevant to the subsequent matter in which disqualification is sought." 20 Trone v. Smith, 621 F.2d 994, 999 (9th Cir. 1980)(attorney disqualification). It is 21 the "possibility of the breach of confidence, not the fact of the breach, that triggers 22 disqualification." Id.

23 Massachusetts Ethics Opinion 99-3, which specifically found that Rule 1.9 24 applies to an attorney serving as a testifying expert, also makes clear that the 25 prohibition against acting as a testifying expert in a substantially related matter 26 applies "even if the lawyer actually has no relevant confidential information." 27 Mass. Ethics Op. No. 99-3. The same principles that are implicated when an 28 attorney represents a new client against a former client are present when the 1 attorney testifies as an expert against a former client in a substantially related 2 matter. Id. “The same threat to the fidelity of the lawyer to his former client and to 3 the purpose of the rule to encourage clients to communicate with their lawyer is 4 involved” and the “same possibility of inadvertent use of confidential 5 information...and the same judicial probing of the client’s confidential information 6 are involved.” Id. Accordingly, “expert testimony about a standard of care that 7 relates to the meeting of legal requirements” satisfies the definition of law-related 8 services, to which the rules of professional conduct apply. Id.

9 Moreover, an ethical screen of Mr. Clark would not allow Ms. Wagner to accept 10 the current engagement. Certain conflicts that would otherwise violate Rule 1.9 can 11 be waived, provided that three conditions are met. See Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 12 1.10(a)(2). The first condition, however, is that “the prohibited lawyer did not 13 substantially participate in the same or a substantially related matter.” Cal. R. Prof.
14 Conduct 1.10(a)(2)(i) (emphasis added). Here, Mr. Clark substantially participated 15 in Grabek. He was one of the attorneys who represented the Grabek plaintiffs over 16 the course of several years, working a total of over 2,500 hours on the case.
17 Schlichter Decl. ¶3. He had personal contact with the Class Representatives and 18 Named Plaintiffs, and was exposed to confidential information material to the 19 matter. See Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.10, cmt. 1 (factors considered in determining 20 substantial participation include “lawyer’s level of responsibility in the prior matter, 21 the duration of the lawyer’s participation, the extent to which the lawyer advised or 22 had personal contact with the former client, and the extent to which the lawyer was 23 exposed to confidential information of the former client likely to be material in the 24 current matter.”). Because that condition is not met, ethical screens and written 25 notice to the former client cannot remedy the conflict to enable Ms. Wagner to 26 accept this engagement. See Cal. R. Prof. Conduct 1.10(a)(2)(ii)–(iii).

27 The conclusion that an ethical screen cannot eliminate the imputed conflict 28 given Mr. Clark’s heavy involvement in Grabek is also consistent with the case law

1 that predated the enactment of Rule 1.10. “[I]f the tainted attorney was actually 2 involved in the representation of the first client, and switches sides in the same 3 case”—as Ms. Wagner, through Mr. Clark’s work in the first case, effectively did 4 here when she sought to become an expert against the class—“no amount of 5 screening will be sufficient, and the presumption of imputed knowledge is 6 conclusive.” Kirk v. First Am. Title Ins. Co., 183 Cal. App. 4th 776, 814 (Cal. Ct.
7 App. 2010).¹⁴ This is nothing like a situation where a conflicted attorney briefly met 8 with an opposing party on a brief and informal basis. In re Marriage of 9 Zimmerman, 16 Cal. App. 4th 556, 565 (Cal. Ct. App. 1993). This action and 10 Grabek are “so substantially related—indeed, they are nearly identical,” and Mr.
11 Clark’s involvement as class counsel was so significant, that an ethical screen 12 cannot protect Plaintiffs’ confidential information and “prevent the appearance of 13 impropriety.” Hitachi, Ltd. v. Tatung Co., 419 F.Supp.2d 1158, 1164 (N.D. Cal.
14 2006)(vicarious disqualification of law firm due to disqualified attorney’s prior 15 representation of plaintiff in a substantially related matter)(emphasis added); W.
16 Sugar Coop. v. Archer-Daniels-Midland Co., 98 F.Supp.3d 1074, 1081–82 (C.D.
17 Cal. 2015)(finding law firm subject to automatic disqualification because it 18 previously represented adverse party in substantially related litigation). Thus, 19 regardless of whether any ethical screen was implemented, “it does not eliminate 20 [Ms. Wagner’s] firm’s imputed conflict of interest.” Fant v. City of Ferguson, No.
21 15-253, 2017 WL 3392073 at 4 (E.D. Mo. Aug. 7, 2017) (disqualified law firm due 22 to imputed conflict of interest despite ethical wall).

23 The Massachusetts Rules of Professional Conduct adopted similar conditions to 24 California Rule of Prof. Conduct 1.10(a)(2), that if met, would avoid imputing 25 conflicts to Ms. Wagner. However, none of those conditions are present. Mr. Clark 26 obtained confidential information and was materially involved in Grabek which

27 ¹⁴ Had the Court granted Plaintiffs’ motion to consolidate Grabek with Marshall 28 (see Marshall Doc. 70), Ms. Wagner’s disqualification would have been automatic.

1 provides a substantial benefit to Defendants, such as through his knowledge of 2 Plaintiffs' attorneys' mental impressions and trial strategy on the common claim, 3 among others. See Mass. R. Prof. Conduct 1.10(d)(firm may represent new client 4 only if disqualified lawyer has no confidential information, or the lawyer had 5 "neither involvement nor information relating to the matter sufficient to provide a 6 substantial benefit to the new firm's client...and is screened"). Under these 7 circumstances, informed consent from the former client or law firm is required, 8 which Ms. Wagner did not obtain. See Mass. R. Prof. Conduct 1.10, cmt. 8 9 ("Paragraphs (d) and (e) of Rule 1.10...do not permit a firm, without the consent of 10 the former client of the disqualified lawyer or of the disqualified lawyer's former 11 firm, to handle a matter with respect to which the personally disqualified lawyer 12 was involved to a degree sufficient to provide a substantial benefit to the new firm's 13 client or had confidential information relating to the matter sufficient to provide a 14 substantial benefit to the new firm's client, as noted in Comment 11 below.").

15 Even if an ethical screen could have theoretically prevented disqualification, any 14 In light of Ms. Wagner's imputed conflict of interest, the Court should 16 III. Apart from the above, Ms. Wagner should be barred because she has 18 firm's client Mr. Witz.
